

Mr. Sun Jiabo Talking About the Sculpture by Mu Boyan

Everybody called Mu Boyan “Lao Mu (Old Fellow Mu)” when he was very young. “Old” just means “Success”. He has grasped the “rule of modeling” very early in the field of plastic arts. In Italy, Michelangelo makes me so amazing, such many huge stone sculptures were all carved by him; such many beautiful mural paintings were all created by him with whole life devoting. His artworks are great excellent in quantities, it is not for the anatomy knowledge he learnt very well, but for the whole set of methods to mold. Rodin created such many wonderful art pieces, his power of molding is outstanding, and it is because he mastered the “method of molding”. I like the works by Lao Mu, not only for his highly skillfulness, I appreciate his cognition to modeling and his understanding about spaces. “The refined steel, softly winds fingers.” I believe him to make all kinds of good works along with the enhancement of manner. When he feels it, he possibly will give everybody next time to look the “dry thinners”.
